

Angels Among Us

Healing Energy &

AUTISM

Stephen Lewis has a soft spot for children, especially children with the energy frequency of Autism or Down Syndrome. Lewis, the co-author of "Sanctuary: The Path to Consciousness" began offering free AIM Energetic Balancing Programs to any child or adult with the energy frequency of Autism or Down Syndrome nearly three years ago. Lewis will be speaking at the first annual Las Vegas Holistic Fair on Friday, May 5th at 1 pm to be held at Cashman Center.

Denise, a Las Vegas mother, enrolled her son in the AIM Program. "We have been participating in Energetic Balancing and the AIM Program for about 7 months now on an Autism Scholarship, and I am overjoyed at the changes I have seen with my son. Within weeks, my child started pointing out letters to me, and now knows the whole alphabet and can point out any letter at any time.

Either he didn't know it before, or maybe he knew it but didn't know how to express or verbalize it. He can clearly count to 30 now, when before we would only get "1, 2, 3 (mumble, mumble...) 10!" Denise is one of a few hundred parents who have enrolled their child in the AIM Program of Energetic Balancing at no cost.

So who is Stephen Lewis and why might Las Vegans benefit in knowing him? Well, if you don't know him you've probably heard of his friends including Dr. Wayne Dyer, or The Secret stars Rev. Dr. Michael Beckwith and James Ray. All these men have gotten to know the real Stephen Lewis and endorse his work using energy to self-heal.

Lewis grew up in South Philadelphia and then moved to the west coast. He dabbled in computers until he found his true calling, subtle energy physics. He has been fascinated by energy nearly all his life and has studied Oriental medicine, philosophy, and religion, which are all based on energy. He has degrees in acupuncture and homeopathy. To date, nearly 40,000 people worldwide have enrolled in the AIM Program of Energetic Balancing.

The AIM program of Energetic Balancing has earned the endorsements of Dr. Wayne Dyer, Richard Gerber, M.D., Rev. Michael Beckwith, and has been featured in national magazines including Science of Mind. To learn more about Stephen Lewis and the seminar he will be hosting Saturday, May 5th, visit www.lvhmf.com
